

Photo 14. Views from SR 89 looking west toward the project area. The roadway is at a lower elevation than the project area and is relatively flat and straight with dense forest on either side. The project area is not visible.

Photo 15. View from SR 89 looking west toward the project area. Vegetation obscures most views of the project area, and background views of ridgelines are only briefly visible in passing.

00024.07 (7-07)

Photo 16. View from SR 89 looking west toward the project area. The roadway is at a lower elevation than the project area and is relatively flat and straight with dense forest on either side. Electrical transmission lines cross the roadway and open the forest canopy to provide brief, intermittent views. The project area is not visible.